NOTES IN SEASON.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & Co. have in preparation, for publication during 1898, a new work entitled "The Gentleness of Jesus," by the popular religious writer, Mark Guy Pearse.

THE AMERICAN BOOK Co. has issued "The Lincoln Literary Collection," by J. P. McCaskey, containing about 600 selections suitable for memorizing. The collection is named for Lincoln because of the habit attributed to him of committing to memory such poems as he enjoyed.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. have issued "The King's Story-Book," compiled from English history and romantic literature, intended to furnish children as much entertainment as fairy tales, combined with solid educational benefit. George Lawrence Gomme has written the introduction defining the plan of the book, and he is supposed to have made the compilation also, although this is not clearly stated in the title.

SMALL, MAYNARD & Co., Boston, are bringing out new standard editions of the writings of Walt Whitman, published by authority of the poet's literary executors. "Leaves of Grass" is brought out complete from author's last edition, with an added section of new poems entitled "Old Age Echoes," an index of first lines, a facsimile of a manuscript poem, the original steel portrait now re-engraved, and a new frontispiece portrait. The series of letters written by Whitman to Peter Doyle, issued during the year under the title "Calamus," is also brought out uniform with the new set. In press are "The Complete Prose Works" and "The Wound Dresser," edited by Doctor Bucke, the remarkable volume of letters written by the poet to his mother describing his experiences as volunteer nurse during the Civil War.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have now ready a large supply of "Valentines for 1898," all made at the celebrated manufactory of Ernest Nister, of Nuremberg, and fully up to the high standard of his most artistic work. They range in price from ten cents to fifty cents, and are marvels of cheapness when their beauty and finish is taken into consideration. Movable figures seem to be a feature of this year's valentines. "The North Pole Valentine" shows moving bears, dogs, icebergs, men, and ships; "The Switchback Valentine" represents a mechanical shute showing moving lanterns; "The Pilot" is a yachting novelty showing the pilot at work; and there are devices suitable for almost any friend with any kind of interest or fad. Flowers hold their accustomed place, and there are also some very pretty pictures of children.

THE MACMILLAN Co. have just issued "The History of South Carolina Under the Proprietary Government, 1670-1719," by Edward McCrady, a member of the bar of Charleston, and vice-president of the Historical Society of South Carolina; "Suggestions for Laboratory and Field Work in High-School Geology," by Ralph S. Tarr, of Cornell University; "Outlines of Sociology," by Lester F. Ward, of Columbia University, Washington, D. C.; and "Science of Law and Law Making," by R. Floyd Clarke, of the New York Bar. Zola's "Paris" is also announced, but cannot be published until it has completed its career as a serial, which will probably take at least three months more. Zola wrote "Rome" as a corollary to "Lourdes," and now gives the public "Paris," which he intends shall in some degree restore peace and hope to his young hero, the disciple of Lamennais, the Abbé Froment. They have postponed the publication of Prof. Herbert Weir Smyth's "Niche Poets," which is to be the first volume of Greek Lyric Poets. The author wishes to keep his manuscript in hand until the appearance of Keyon's book on Bacchylides and his newly-discovered poems. A volume of West Indian tales by Mrs. Schuyler Crowninshield will shortly be published under the title "Where the Trade Wind Blows."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illus. rated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

*Abbott, Willis J. Naval history of the United States; il. by H. W. McVicar and W. C. Jackson. New ed. enl., and a new arrangement of the three "Blue Jacket books," in 1 v. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. 1000 p. 8°, cl., $3.75. [4420]

Amicis, Edmondo de. On blue water; tr. by Jacob B. Brown. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, [1897.] c. 8+387 p. il. O. cl., (corr. price,) $2.25. [4421]

Archer, Agatha. The King's Daughter, and the King's Son: a fairy tale of to-day; written by a King's Daughter in the summer of 1896. N. Y., Fowler & Wells Co., [1897.] c. 5+279 p. O. cl., $1. [4422]

The story of Una Hope is of the development of a woman whose one passion is the simple natural one for love and home. The death of her mother takes away early in the story the only entirely sympathetic companion of Una's life. Una searches for companionship. She studies and works and lives, and meets her three lovers; the first when she is a young girl, the others when she is a wiser and stronger woman. How she meets them and how she tests them the story tells.

Audubon, J. Ja. Audubon and his journals; ed. by Maria R. Audubon; with zoölogical and other notes by Elliott Coues. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1897. c. 2 v., 11+532; 5+554 p. il. por. O. cl., $7.50. [4423]

These very important volumes contain the first really accurate biography of our greatest ornithologist. His granddaughter spent twelve years in collecting the materials for the work, finding only recently one long-lost portion of the Missouri River Journal. Contains a complete account of Audubon's life, chiefly in his own words; his European journals, 1826-1829; The Labrador journal, 1833; The Missouri journals, 1843, and the "Episodes," which were originally introduced in the letter-press of the first three volumes of the "Ornithological biographies." Adorned with many portraits and other illustrations, including three hitherto unpublished bird drawings.

Chapman, Ja. Wilkinson, jr. State tax commissions in the United States. Balt., Md., The Johns Hopkins Press, 1897. c. 3-114 p. O. (Johns Hopkins University, 15th ser., nos. 10-11.) pap., 50 c. [4430]

This monograph is the outgrowth of a study of the reports made by the State Tax Commissions in the United States, appointed to investigate the problem of taxation as it existed in the states which they represented. The author presents the imperfections of the tax systems in the several states, and shows the manner in which the commissions have performed their duties, and directs attention to the results which their labors have accomplished.

*Church, Alfred. Lords of the world; or, the story of the fall of Carthage and Corinth. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1897. il. 12°, cl., $1.50. [4431]

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

- Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. 8°, cl., net, $4. [Ed. limited to 250 copies.] [4440]
- *Finn, Rev. Francis J. Echoes from Bethlehem: a Christmas miracle. St. Louis, B. Herder, 1897. 24 p. 12° cl., 25 c. [4441]
- Fuller, Hulbert. Vivian of Virginia; il. by Frank T. Merrill; being the memoirs of our first Rebellion, by John Vivian, Esq., of Middle Plantation, Virginia. Bost., Lamson, Wolfe & Co., 1897. c. 5+377 p. il. D. cl., $1.75. [4442]
- A novel founded on the early colonial history of Virginia. Incidents which were the outcome of Bacon's Rebellion in 1676 are given prominence in the story, which is quaintly told by John Vivian, supposed to have been an actor in the perilous adventures described. Vivian dwells particularly on the tyranny of Governor Berkeley, tracing the course of Bacon and other characters who figured in the famous Rebellion. Introduces likewise Mistress Langdon, who plays a prominent part in the history of the colony and in the life of the hero.
- Gem series. N. Y., Ward & Drummond, [1897.] 12 v., ea., 64 p. il. S. cl., per set, $3. [4443]
- Contents:* Only a bunch of cherries, by Mrs. Emma Martin Marshall; Harry's monkey, how it helped the missionaries, by Mrs. C. E. Bowen, and How Sadie slipped, by Jennie Chappell; Come home mother, by Nelsie Brook; Sybil and her live snowball, to which is added The story of the bird's nest; Greycliffe Abbey; or, Cecil's trust, by Jennie Perrett; Daybreak: a story for girls, by Florence A. Sitwell; Dick and his donkey; or, how to pay the rent; Red Dave; or, what wilt thou have me to do?, by M. S. MacRitchie; Friendless Bob, to which is added the story of Wilfred's holiday lesson; The snowdrops; or, life from the dead, by the author of "Thoughts on the Lord's prayer"; Herbert's first year at Bramford, by the author of "Dick and his donkey"; and Ted's golden cloud, by E. M. Waterworth; Bright Ben: the story of a mother's boy, by Jessie Page.
- *Goepp, Philip H. Symphonies and their meaning. Phil., J. B. Lippincott Co., 1897. 12°, cl., $1.25. [4444]
- Greene, Waverly. George Forest: a story of the present day. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham Co., 1897. c. 204 p. D. (Dillingham's metropolitan lib., no. 33.) pap., 50 c. [4445]
- Illustrates the present-day theory that intemperance is more a disease than a vice; the author's hero is a man who drinks to excess, he marries a woman much older than himself, and in a fit of passion and intemperance one day strangles her. Intermingled with his story is the story of an English woman of noble birth, who marries a man socially beneath her, comes to America and opens a boarding-house in New York.
- *Guerber, H. A. Stories of famous operas. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. il. 12° cl., $1.50. [4446]

- The story opens in early May, in the year 1778, in the Green Tree Coffee House in Philadelphia. The chief characters are assembled here: Mademoiselle de Berny, her half-brother Armand, who is blind and is led about by a huge dog, their guardian General Stirling, a British officer, and Richard Hayward, an American officer in disguise, spying out the British conditions in the Quaker City for his chief, General Washington. Three of the characters are transferred to Valley Forge, where a pretty love-tale is enacted. Washington and Lafayette appear in the story.

- Merton, Holmes Whittier. Descriptive mentality, from the head, face, and hand. [New rev. enl. ed.] N. Y., S. F. McLean & Co., 1897. c. '93-'97. unpub. il. O. pap., 50 c. [4465]
- *Miss Chunk: a tale of the times. St. Louis, Mo., Walter Vrooman, 1897. 12°, cl., 75 c. [4466]
- Napoléon I., [Napoléon Bonaparte.] New letters of Napoléon I., omitted from the edition published under the auspices of Napoleon III.; from the French, by Lady Mary Loyd. N. Y., Appleton, 1897. 18+380 p. por. D. cl., $2. [4467]
- Napoleon III. ordered during his reign the publication of the correspondence of Napoléon I., as a tribute to his memory. The work was done under the supervision of a committee, presided over by Prince Napoleon, between the years 1858 and 1869. Although the correspondence filled twenty-eight quarto volumes, a very large number of letters and documents remained unpublished, the committee believing they would not add to the reputation of the great emperor. It is from these inedited letters, etc.—the most dangerous portion of Napoleon's correspondence—that Léon Lécestre the editor has made his selection. They cover the time between the years 1800 and 1815.
- Newcomb, C. B. All's right with the world. Bost., The Philosophical Publishing Co., 1897. c. 2-261 p. D. cl., $1.50. [4468]
- Forty-five optimistic papers; some of the subjects are: Morbid tenacity; Christian transgressors; Bric-à-brac bondage; Postponement a delusion; Bitter medicine; Domestic despots; Self-sacrifice; Vicious virtues; Virtuous vices; Christian atheism; Antidotes to worry; The folly of resentment; Sympathy as a vice; The selfishness of sorrow; Insomnia; An honest graveyard; Poverty as a disease; Mental dyspepsia; Restless aspirations.
- Pearl series for the little ones. N. Y., Ward & Drummond, 1897. 12 v., ea. 64 p. il. S. cl., per set, $3. [4469]

- *Short, E. Lyman. The law of railway bonds and mortgages in the United States of America; with illustrative cases from English and Colonial courts, by E. Lyman Short. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1897. 63+975 p. 8°, shp., net, $6.50. [4478]
- Shufeldt, R. W., M.D. Chapters on the natural history of the United States. N. Y., Studer Bros., 1897. c. 3-472+8 p. por. il. O. cl., net, $3.50. [4479]
- Devoted to the life histories of many of the better known mammals, birds, fish, reptiles, insects, etc., of the United States. Written in an instructive and popular style. One of the chief features of the work consists in the half-tones, reproduced from a notable series of photographs, all made by Dr. Shufeldt himself from the living forms, and nearly all life size. The work is issued under the auspices of the Natural Science Association of America.
- *Smith, G. Barnett. Colonization in the United States, from the earliest times to the landing of the Pilgrim fathers. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. 8°, cl., $1.50. [4480]
- Smith, Jessie R. Four true stories of life and adventure. N. Y., W. Beverley Harrison, 1897. c. 125 p. D. cl., net, 36 c. [4481]
- The story of Columbus, of Captain John Smith, of Captain Myles Standish, and Benjamin Franklin. Practically written by children, and designed to be read by them, not to them. Miss Smith first read the stories of these four historical characters to children, and afterward had them write them out in their own words. The result is simple, child-like narratives that other children will enjoy.
- *Steevens, G. W. The conquering Turk: letters from the Greco-Turkish war. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. 12°, cl., $1.50. [4482]
- *Stillman, W. J. The old Rome and the new, and other studies. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1897. 8°, cl., $2. [4483]

- Tarr, Ralph Stockman. Suggestions for laboratory and field work in high-school geology and questions for use with Tarr's "Elementary geology." N. Y., The Mac-

- millan Co., 1897. c. 2+100 p. O. pap., 25 c. [4485]
- Trautmann, G. H. A comparative test of steam injectors. Madison, Wis., University of Wisconsin, 1897. 89-122 p. O. (Bulletin of the University of Wisconsin, Engineering ser., v. 2, no. 2.) pap., 25 c. [4486]
- Tuttielt, M. G., ["Maxwell Gray," pseud.] Sweethearts and friends: a novel. N. Y., Appleton, 1897. c. 3+250 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 231.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c. [4487]
- Amy Langton, a young English girl, becomes an M.D. in spite of the opposition of all her family, her brothers refusing to meet her during the time she is studying. She is an advocate of female suffrage, and believes professional women should remain single. Her theories are severely tested by a young man, who is so good and beautiful that he is called the "Immaculate" all through the story. His ideal is the dependent and clinging woman, but Miss Langton impresses him so strongly that he proposes to her three times.
- *Wait, J. Cassan. Engineering and architectural jurisprudence: a presentation of the law of construction for engineers, architects, contractors, builders, public officers, and attorneys-at-law. N. Y., J. Wiley & Sons, 1897. 80+905 p. 8°, cl., $6; shp., $6.50. [4488]

- Wilson, Annie E. The family altar: helps and suggestions for family worship. Richmond, Va., Presbyterian Committee of Publication, [1897.] c. '98 ['97.] 29 p. S. cl., $1; pap., 20 c. [4491]
- Wilson, J. Self-control; or, life without a master: a short treatise on the rights and wrongs of men. N. Y., Lemcke & Buechner, 1898 [1897.] c. '97. 2-336 p. O. cl., $1.50. [4492]
- That most of the things we have been taught to consider right and desirable—in the laws, in morals, in religion and government—are not only opposed to the highest development of the individual, and detrimental to his happiness and welfare, but positively wrong, are the arguments of the author. His aim is to teach self-reliance, by making people think for themselves. His suggestions for living are simple and seemingly practical, though really rather visionary. The book is fresh and amusing, if not altogether helpful. A list of books that have helped the author covers four pages.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

DECEMBER 25, 1897.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR.

As Christmas passes and the close of the year comes, the wearied bookseller looks upon the passing holidays with mingled emotions. Let us hope, however, that he has not lost that sensation of pleasure in the holiday season which to the ordinary human being marks the last week of the year as its joy season, even though he be so tired with the rush of work that the seamy side only is for the moment uppermost in his mind.

Perhaps it may be wise to say now and here that some general attempt should be made another year by retail dealers in other holiday shopping trades, as well as by the book trade, to induce retail buyers to be more forethoughted and forehanded in their Christmas purchasing. Holiday shopping is largely a matter of public habit, and the public habit is each year becoming worse and worse in crowding into the days of the very week before Christmas most of the work, to the equal dissatisfaction and discomfort of buyer and seller. When stormy days come in that week—as of course they are apt to come—the results are serious, both to the temper of the buyer and to the prosperity of the seller, who, in a Christmas week of inclement weather, may find his stock left over to the new year in undue proportion. With a view to relieving the dealer at this season of the year, we have endeavored always, and we believe we have succeeded, to issue the Christmas Bookshelf as early as any publication of this sort can be issued, considering the delay made by the publishers themselves; and we hope next year that, as suggested, some concerted action may be made to tempt buyers to make their purchases at least a week earlier than heretofore.

It is impossible, at this writing, to make any résumé of the actual results of the holiday season. Unfortunately, this year the buying on the part of the retail trade has also been crowded into exceedingly narrow limits, and while many of the publishers have reported good sales during the time, and there is good reason to hope that the trade will show a better result than last year, there are as yet no adequate facts available on which to base even an approximate estimate of the amount of prosperity enjoyed by the book trade. We hope, however, that the hard work to which the trade is subjected not only at this time but throughout the year has not been without its results, and that when the balance sheet is struck at the close of the holiday season most of our friends may be able to congratulate themselves on a fairly prosperous old year—even though prosperity has not come in as large measure as was prophesied—and on increasing chances for a happy new year.

THE DISCOUNT QUESTION IN ENGLAND.

As was feared, the decision of the English Society of Authors was adverse to the proposed reduction of the discount allowed to buyers of new books from threepence to twopence in the shilling. Not only was the decision adverse, but it was emphatically and unequivocally so. "We feel it impossible," says H. Rider Haggard, in sending the report to C. J. Longman, president of the Publishers' Association, "to give support to the joint proposals of the publishers and booksellers on the broad ground that, even were it possible to carry them into effect—which remains an open question—they would, as we understand them, be in restraint of free trade and a fetter on individual liberty." The report states more pointedly that in the opinion of the sub-committee coercive measures could not be carried out, and that any attempt to impose restrictions on the retail bookseller would work out to the detriment of the author. This is the familiar argument of fifty years ago. The committee express sympathy with the country bookseller in his unhappy state; but, for the present at least, decline to interfere in his behalf. Whether authors could or would help in any other manner than that proposed by the booksellers remains to be seen, but it is evident that the movement for securing a reduced rate of discount cannot be carried to an immediate issue.

Naturally booksellers are deeply disappointed with the reply of the Authors' Society to their proposal; but they have not lost heart. T. Burleigh, secretary of the Associated Booksellers, in the course of an interview with a Daily Chronicle representative, expressed the opinion that "this is not the end of the movement," but "merely the beginning of another phase of it. The booksellers," he added, "cannot give it up unless they are to relinquish all prospects for themselves." Frederick Evans is of the same mind. "You cannot," he said, "snuff out bookselling with a puff from the Authors' Committee. The publishers have behaved so well that it seems to me they are bound to go forward with us. The bookselling trade is in too bad a condition to remain as it is—improvement must be sought by the only apparent means." Mr. Evans criticised the report on this ground—that its outlook was too much that of the novel which sold in thousands. "I mean," he added, "that it is the popular novelist who appears to have been mainly in the mind of the committee. That is not the bookselling trade; it is but one part of it. Also, the authors, as I regard their report, do not look enough into the future. They don't do that, even if the platform is the popular novel. Suppose the bookselling trade were gradually to lose what vigor remains to it, would the author benefit? Hardly!"

Doubtless the matter will not be allowed to rest, for it is not likely that either publishers or booksellers will bow to the dictum of the Authors' Society in matters that affect their financial prosperity.

THE "CODEX ARGENTEUS."

W. S. HARWOOD in The Outlook magazine number for November describes the "Codex Argenteus," a translation of the four Gospels into ancient Gothic, made over fifteen hundred years ago by Bishop Ulphilas, which is now the property of the University of Upsala, Sweden. The volume containing the Codex is not a large one, the leaves being not more than ten inches square. These leaves, less than 200 in number, are parchment, colored a deep purple, and the strange lettering, in a language that has perished, done in silver, dull with the tarnishing of the centuries. The whole has been translated into the modern tongue. The ancestors of Bishop Ulphilas lived somewhere in the region north of the Danube; they, or some of the nearer ones, were captured as slaves and taken to Rome, and there Ulphilas was educated in the church. A missionary to the savage people of the north, where his ancestors had lived, he spent many years of his life among them, and, at last, in the year 381, with infinite care and pains, he translated into the language of the Goths, through the medium of this purple-leaved book, the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. While this manuscript volume is not valuable from the standpoint of interpretation and verification, as are some of the manuscripts of the Scriptures, like those preserved in Rome, St. Petersburg, and London, which are invaluable because of their direct Biblical authority, so to call it, yet this Codex is, taken as a whole, a volume of immense importance. According to Dr. Anderson, one of the professors of the University of Upsala, it may be considered to be "the most valuable book in the world."

AMERICAN BOOK PRICES CURRENT.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have just ready the 1896-1897 volume of "American Book Prices Current," the third annual issue of their record of books, MSS. and autographs sold at auction in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Cincinnati, with the prices realized, compiled from the auctioneers' catalogues by Luther S. Livingston. The volume records 8562 items from 110 sales representing 215 days' sales. The 110 catalogues comprised 80,000 lots, of which only about one-tenth is recorded, because most of the discarded lots sold for less than $3, the limit of value set by the publishers and compiler. A few lots selling at higher prices were thrown out on account of imperfect descriptions in the catalogues, making it difficult to identify the books, which should prove a wholesome warning to auctioneers. Books in print, selling at or near the book's limit of price, have been properly discarded in order to prevent the volume being too extended.

A special effort has been made to include all American books, local history, genealogy, etc., even when they occasionally sold below the limit of price, so as to make the record of first editions of the leading American authors as complete as possible.

The arrangement is identical with that of last year's volume. The record is preceded by a chronological list of sales and the names of the auctioneers whose sales are reported. A reasonably full index completes the work which year by year promises to become of inestimable value to the bookseller and collector.

THE ASHBURNHAM SALE.

SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE, of London, commenced the sale of the second portion of the Ashburnham Library (Gadbury to Petrarch), on the 6th inst. Very high prices were realized especially for the printed Books of Hours. Some of the best in the first two days were the following: George Gascoigne's whole works, 1587, £40; Gazius de Conservatione Sanitatis, 1491, £33 10s.; De Gheyn's "Maniement d'Armes," rich Le Gascon binding, 1607, £55; Giambullari's "Feste nelle Nozze di Duca di Firenze," on vellum, 1539, £26 10s. (sold for £10 in 1859); Glanville's "De Proprietatibus Rerum," Trevisa's translation, title and last leaf in facsimile, Wynkyn de Worde, n.d., £195; Gower's "Confessio Amantis," printed by Caxton, 1483, having 191 lines only instead of 222 lines, £188; Grafton's Chronicle, 1570, with a letter of Thos. Howard, Duke of Norfolk (beheaded 1572), in the margins, £70; Gringoire's "Les Folles Enterprises," Paris, 1505, £106; Hakluyt's Voyages, with the rare map and Cadiz voyage, 1598-1600, £275; Hall's "Satires, with Certaine Worthe Manuscript Poems," 1597-99, £34; Higden's Polychronicon, Caxton, 1482, wanting forty-six leaves, £201; Wynkyn de Worde's edition of the same, imperfect, 1495, £36; Holbein's "Dance of Death" (in French), first edition, Lyon, 1538, £41; Holinshed's Chronicles, 1577, £58; "Heures à Paris," T. Kerver, 1522, £60; another edition, G. Tory, Paris, 1527, £31; another copy, much finer, £141; "Heures de Paris," Kerver, 1552, £52; "Horæ ad Usus Romanum," Bourges, 1489, £179; another, printed on vellum, Paris, Marnef, 1492, £105; "Heures de Rome," on vellum, S. Vostre, 1498, £101; another, by Kerver, 1499, on vellum, £165; another, by Hardouyn, on vellum, 1520, £84; "Heures de Rome," with Tory borders, delicately illuminated, 1525, £860; another, same date, but inferior, £119; another, Paris, O. Maillard, 1541, £530; and "Heures de Rouan," Paris, S. Vostre, 1528, £175.

"MARK TWAIN" SETTling LIABILITIES OF C. L. WEBSTER & CO.

SAMUEL L. CLEMENS ("Mark Twain"), as has already been noted by us, has just made a payment of 25 % to the creditors of C. L. Webster & Co. which failed in 1894 and in which Mr. Clemens was heavily interested. The assignee, Bainbridge Colby, of 120 Broadway, managed to realize 28 % of the liabilities out of the assets of the firm and of the personal estate of Mr. Clemens, which was turned over to him at once. With one or two exceptions the creditors offered to settle with fifty cents on the dollar, and this sum Mr. Clemens paid last year. He, however, stated that he should take no advantage of any bankruptcy law, but would, if given time, pay dollar for dollar of the indebtedness. He has kept his word and has now made a payment that wipes out 75 % of his liabilities. Mr. Clemens hopes inside of four years to make his final payment. It is to be hoped Mr. Clemens may be granted the satisfaction of seeing his great undertaking accomplished. He is sixty-four years old.

PRIVATE LETTERS CANNOT BE PUBLISHED WITHOUT THE WRITER'S CONSENT.

THE right to publish private letters (which the publisher has honestly acquired) against the objection of the writer, was denied by the English High Court of Justice in the recent case of Labouchere vs. Hess and Mrs. Sala. Mr. Hess, the proprietor and publisher of the African Critic of London, in his issue of October 5, published an article entitled "The stock-jobbing of Henry Labouchere, M.P. for Northampton and proprietor of Truth, and late member of the British South Africa committee," in which he threatened to print a certain letter written to George Augustus Sala by Labouchere.

Mr. Labouchere applied to the court for an order to restrain both Mr. Hess and Mrs. Sala from publishing the letter in question, or any others written by him to Mr. Sala. The defendant (Hess) contended that Mr. Labouchere had published what purported to be a letter written by him (Hess) which had been taken from the records of a lawsuit in the Transvaal. The court held that that fact did not warrant the threatened publication of Labouchere's letter to Sala, since it might have been shown to be a justifiable publication if the case had been brought to trial with witnesses, etc. The defendant contended also that he had a right to publish letters for the purpose of defending his own character. This the court was disposed to concede, but held that the publication of these letters was avowedly for a different purpose, namely, to blacken the character of

Mr. Labouchere. The injunction to restrain the publication was then granted. His Lordship, in rendering his decision, referred to what he had understood to be a suggestion that the injunction, if granted, could be evaded by getting some one else to publish the letters. He remarked that Mr. Hess and his friends would stand a good chance of finding themselves in jail if such a course was adopted, and said he would add to the injunction words expressly prohibiting any improper use of the letters. Nor must Mrs. Sala publish any without Mr. Labouchere's consent.

COMMUNICATIONS.

ABSURDITY OF THE COMPETITION IN DISCOUNTS.

PITTSBURGH, December 15, 1897.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: There has just come under my observation a curious illustration of the absurdities of the discount system, which, as we all acknowledge, is ruining the retail book trade. A certain estimable publisher, whose place of business is within the radius of a hundred-mile circle of your office, has very recently published a book by a well-known author, and which ought to and doubtless will prove quite a success. In all his advertisements and circulars of this new book the price is stated at $1.50. This same publisher also does a very comfortable retail business in books (of other houses), stationery, etc., etc. He issued at the first of this month a thirty-two page catalogue of books offered at retail, containing a large selection of such books as are generally found in good retail stores. All through this catalogue prices are given by the too familiar formula: "Publisher's price —. Our price —."

The first item on this catalogue is the book just referred to, published less than thirty days ago by himself at $1.50, and the price reads: "Publisher's price $1.50. OUR PRICE $1.10"!! And enclosed in this catalogue is this same publisher's own circular announcing the issue of this book at $1.50!

Now which is the correct price of the book? If the publisher says the truth when he makes one piece of paper quote the price at $1.50 is he not deceiving the public when he makes another piece of paper quote it at $1.10? Which is the truth?

Is it possible for the book trade ever to recover from its present lamentable conditions so long as publishers are willing to break faith with their own prices? BOOKS:

UNIFORM BINDINGS.

LANCASTER, N. H., December 17, 1897.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: Why will not publishers adopt a more uniform style of binding in their respective size of books? To us it seems more in keeping with good taste. Novelty attracts the eye, but does not leave a lasting impress like uniformity. A neat style may be seen in Farrar's "Men Whom I Have Known" or Fields's "Life and Letters of Mrs. Stowe." Books of a size grouped on a shelf are more attractive when uniformly bound. G. H. COLBY & Co.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

THE Committee of Ways and Means of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association has held three meetings since the special meeting held on the 8th inst. It has gone carefully over the accounts kept by the secretary and treasurer and has determined the amount to be paid claimants due on the first assessment. Two hundred and forty-seven members paid that assessment in full; a number of members made partial payment, which amount is held in reserve for the present until it can be determined whether the association has a legal right to receive such payments in instalments and retain the members, making such payments in good standing. The beneficiaries of those whose deaths were recorded in the first call will therefore each receive $247 plus their share of the partial payments, if the money thus received may be distributed.

The committee is endeavoring to devise some method by which the association may be enabled to continue, or if that should prove impracticable, to reinsure the membership that may be left in some regular life insurance company.

Another meeting of the committee will be held on the 27th inst., at which it will also be determined when a meeting of the association is to be held to receive its report and to discuss its recommendations. That meeting is likely to take place on the 30th inst., or some time early next month.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MISS ELLEN NUSSEY, the "Dear E" of Charlotte Brontë's letters, has just died at a ripe old age. Mr. Nicholls, Charlotte's husband, still lives.

PROF. ARTHUR PALMER, of Trinity College, Dublin, died on Tuesday, December 14. He was born at Guelph, Canada, September 14, 1841. He edited the works of Horace, Plautus, Catullus, Ovid, and other Latin writers.

REUBEN A. BAER, senior member of the firm of John Baer's Sons, a book and stationery firm in Lancaster, Pa., and one of the proprietors of "Baer's Almanac" and the Volks Freund und Beobachter, died December 13. He was seventy-four years old.

FRANCIS MALCOLM, for more than forty years connected with the bookbindery of Harper & Brothers, died at his home in Williamsburg, N. Y., on the 10th inst. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, eighty-eight years ago, and came to this country at the age of twenty-eight.

THOMAS CARLYLE'S sister, Mrs. Janet Han-ning, the last member of the Carlyle family, died in Toronto on December 13. She was possessed of a rugged constitution and had many of the characteristics of her celebrated brother, without the educational and mental power that made him famous.

MORTIMER T. HUMPHREYS, an expert of wide repute in billiard circles, died suddenly in New York on the 21st inst. He was born sixty years ago in Buffalo, N. Y. He compiled a bowling guide that was adopted as a standard by the American Bowling League, and was employed for years as a reviser of professional billiard records.

HENRY THAYER DROWNE, a well-known book-collector and frequenter of auction sales of books, died at his residence, 147 W. Thirty-sixth Street, New York City, on the 10th inst. He was born near Providence, R. I., March 25, 1822, and came to New York at an early age. He was at first engaged in the dry-goods business. Afterwards he devoted himself to fire insurance, and became President of the National Fire Insurance Co. of New York. He was for many years President of the New York Historical Society and, at the time of his death, assistant treasurer of the General Society of the Cincinnati. He was a cousin of the late John Russell Bartlett, of the firm of Bartlett & Welford. His brother, Rev. T. S. Drowne, died in Colchester, Conn., a month ago.

WILLIAM WESLEY PASKO, Secretary of the Typotheta of the city of New York, died December 16, at the Hudson Street Hospital. Mr. Pasko was born in Erie County, N. Y., in 1840, and was brought up as a printer. At one time he had a printing office of his own in Beekman Street, and he was also connected with the Lockwood Press for a long time. He became secretary of the Typotheta about ten years ago. He was well known as a writer upon technical subjects relating to printing, having prepared the greater part of the "American Dictionary of Printing and Bookbinding." Some years ago he published a monthly magazine entitled Old New York, containing new and selected matter relating to New York. After the second volume the magazine ceased to exist.

ALPHONSE DAUDET, the celebrated French novelist, died suddenly in Paris on December 16. He was dining with his family when he was seized with a sudden fainting spell, from which he did not rally, and he died without recovering consciousness. Daudet was born at Nîmes, May 13, 1840. His first publication was a volume of poems entitled "Les Amou-reuses," which appeared in 1858, and immediately gained him employment on several newspapers. In 1861, after a career of journalistic work, he published a second volume of poetry, "La Double Conversion." The work was received with equal favor, and the author's reputation became fixed. Among his best-known works are: "Tartarin de Tarascon," "Les Rois in Exile," "Les Femmes d'Artistes," "Jack, Histoire d'un Ouvrier," "Le Petit Chose," "L'Évangéliste," "Contes du Lundi," "Les Contes Choisis," "Le Nabab," "Sapho," "Fromont Jeune et Risler Aîné," "Numa Roumestan," "La Belle Nivernaise," "L'Immortel," a satire directed against the French Academy; "Port-Tarascon" and "Tartarin sur les Alpes," which with "Tartarin de Tarascon," already mentioned, constitute the fantastic trilogy of which Tartarin is the hero.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

GERTRUDE ATHERTON has written a new book, which she calls "Millions of Bubbles."

It is said that James Lane Allen's next novel is already promised to some magazine, and every one is trying to guess the lucky editor.

A MR. SAMUEL BUTLER has just published in London a book designed to show that a young woman wrote the "Odyssey," and did it about the year 1000 B.C.

H. G. WELLS'S story, "The War of the Worlds," which has lately been published as a serial, is to be recast and enlarged before it is brought out in book form.

KIRK MUNROE is now devoting most of his time to building a house and getting his yacht in order for the winter. Nevertheless, he will have a Christmas story in Brooklyn Life, another story in an early number of The Churchman, and an article in Harper's Magazine for February.

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS is at work on a new serial, to be published in Cribner's some time in the spring. This bit of information is not included in the general announcement, as arrangements regarding it were completed only a very short time ago. Mr. Davis will call his new story "The King's Jackal," and the scene is laid in Tangier. C. D. Gibson, who is now in Africa on multifarious errands, will illustrate it. The story is said to be "even more dramatic" than "Soldiers of Fortune."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE Century Number of The Library contains a very valuable retrospect of the bibliography and library literature of the past eight years.

The New Review, from the editorial chair of which William Ernest Henley has just retired, is to take on a new form and start as a weekly instead of a monthly magazine. The policy of the paper is to be steadily imperialistic and conservative.

The Nineteenth Century for December brings an excellent article by Herbert Paul on "The New Learning," pointing out the superficiality and appalling conceit of some of the writers who edit and criticise and get ready the classics of literature. It also strikes a needed note of warning to the readers who "take their Lamb from Mr. Ainger or Mr. Birrell," etc.

The Critic for December 18 begins a new series of Authors at Home. The first subject is Dr. Charles Conrad Abbott, whose writings on nature are more and more appreciated. His home is Trenton, and its attractions are described by Ernest Ingersoll, who is also known as a keen observer of nature. This issue also contains a portrait of William Nicholson, the English artist whose portraits are attracting so much attention at the moment.

A WEEKLY Gaelic newspaper is announced as being about to be started in Dublin—the first issue being promised by January 1, 1898. The publisher is Bernard Doyle, 9 Upper Ormond Quay, Dublin. The paper is to be named Fainne an Lae ("The Dawning of the Day"), and it will be bilingual in its contents—that is, a portion of each issue will be in Irish, and printed in the Irish character. Its efforts will be mainly devoted to the advancement of the Irish language movement, which should be enough to insure for it the support and encouragement of every patriotic Irishman.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATLANTA, GA.—Glover's book-store was closed December 9 on a chattel mortgage of $2000. A bill for a receiver has been filed, but this will not affect the mortgagees, says Robert Zahner, attorney at Atlanta for the Stationers' Board of Trade.

BANGOR, ME.—Howard Hardison will close out his stock of books and novelties to devote his entire time to the newspaper business.

BANGOR, ME.—The Recorder Publishing Company has been incorporated by S. M. Watson and S. Watson to publish a magazine.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—The North Carolina Presbyterian Publishing Company has been incorporated by J. R. Howerton, J. W. Stagg, and A. J. McKelway, with a capital of $50,000.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The Authors' Publishing Company has moved to 308 Dearborn Street.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The Florist Publishing Company, to publish a periodical, has been incorporated by G. L. Grant, W. S. Carr, and F. M. Lewis.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The French-American Publishing Company has been incorporated by E. de Valcourt-Vermont, H. C. Christensen, and Anne de Valcourt-Vermont.

CLEVELAND, O.—A fire started in Isidore Fuchman's book-store, and caused an explosion which blew out the front of the store.

CORSICANA, TEX.—T. G. Johnson, bookseller, has executed a deed of trust for the benefit of creditors named in a schedule filed with a deed, naming P. C. Townsend as trustee. The liabilities, as represented in the schedule, foot up $1986.16, the larger part of which is local. Amount of assets unknown.

HACKENSACK, N. J.—The New Idea Publishing Company has been incorporated to publish a woman's fashion magazine, by James W. Pearsall, E. R. Davis, E. L. Pearsall, and J. T. Matthews.

KITTERY, ME.—The Wood Publishing Company has been incorporated to do a general publishing business by J. F. Wood and L. A. Hesselton.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—Henry E. Haferkorn, bookseller, on the 13th inst. made an assignment to Emanuel Katzenstein, 338 East Water Street. Creditors are notified that their claims must be filed within three months, either with the assignee or with A. W. Hill, clerk of the Circuit Court of Milwaukee.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—Ed. C. Fowler Co. have succeeded the firm of White, Woodruff & Fowler, booksellers.

NEW YORK CITY.—J. Abrahams has removed his book-store to larger and more convenient quarters at 145 Fourth Avenue, near 14th Street.

ONEONTA, N. Y.—J. W. Bard has sold his periodical and stationery store to Daniel Jennings, who, it is said, has disposed of it to Chester Hanks, a clerk in Henry Saunders's book-store. Mr. Bard is retiring on account of ill-health.

ORLANDO, FLA.—Mr. Talbot has bought the book business of Talbot & Vaughn.

PORTLAND, ME.—The Maine News Company, to do a general stationery and newsdealing business, has been incorporated by W. J. Waterhouse and J. W. Peterson.

RAHWAY, N. J.—H. L. Moore has enlarged his store to accommodate his increasing business.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL.—W. W. Osborne, formerly of Osborne & Pitrat, Kansas City, Mo., has opened a book and stationery store at 931 State Street. He would be pleased to receive publishers' and manufacturers' announcements and catalogues.

TOPEKA, KAN.—Fred Harvey, who manages the eating-houses along the Santa Fé road and runs the "Harvey" dining cars, has lately established a depot news-stand at Topeka. The new venture has more than met the expectations of Mr. Harvey, and it may be that all the larger stations will be thus equipped. A large line of novels of the better order are kept and a curious line of Indian souvenirs. If the stands are established they will be in the larger depots and especially where there are through trains.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

EDNA LYALL's new novel, "Hope the Hermit," is an English love-story of the period of William and Mary.

THE SENTINEL PRINTING COMPANY, Keene, N. H., has in press "The Bellows Genealogy," by Thomas Bellows Peck.

OVER a hundred letters written by Lord Nelson and hitherto unpublished, have lately been discovered, and will be included in the work on the great admiral upon which Lord Charles Beresford is engaged.

D. APPLETON & Co. announce as the next volume in The Literatures of the World series "Modern English Literature," by Edmund Gosse. The volume begins with the time of Chaucer and comes down to this generation, without, however, including living writers.

THE Cornhill "Private Diarist" notes in a list of autographs for sale a letter of G. H. Lewes's, written in 1871, proposing to have texts from the works of George Eliot hung up in school-rooms and railway stations "in lieu of the often preposterous Bible texts thus hung up and neglected."

THE ROXBURGHE PRESS, London, are preparing a new edition of the works of Charles Dickens. Each volume will contain a special introduction by F. G. Kitton, a well-known authority on Dickensiana. The original illustrations by Cruikshank, Seymour, Buss, Phiz, Cattermole, and others will be specially engraved, printed separately on plate paper, and bound in with the books. There will also be several portraits of Charles Dickens.

THE HELMAN-TAYLOR COMPANY, Cleveland Ohio, have ready a handsome volume entitled "Anniversary Book of the American Revolution," compiled by Mary Shelley Pechin, which combines the features of an anniversary and a year-book. The quotations are carefully selected and the result is a valuable compendium of the important events of the Revolution.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish next month "A History of the United States for Schools," by Prof. Wilbur F. Gordy, Principal of the North School, Hartford, Conn., who is widely known in educational circles as a successful teacher, particularly of history, and as the co-author of "A Pathfinder in American History." They also announce for next month a biography of Horace Mann, by Prof. B. A. Hinsdale, a new volume in The Great Educators series; "What is Good Music, suggestions to persons desiring to cultivate a taste in musical art," by W. J. Henderson; and "Outlines of Descriptive Psychology," by Prof. George Trumbull Ladd.

A MOVEMENT has been set afoot by the National Hotel-Keepers' Association to relieve the commercial traveller from temporary financial embarrassment while on the road. It happens frequently that the drummer is compelled to lengthen his trip or go suddenly from one territory to another. In case his cash is not sufficient to hold out he sometimes presents a check to the hotel-keeper and asks him to cash it. If the traveller is well known and has good credit, he has invariably no trouble, but if he is not known he has difficulty in securing the cash, however honest and trustworthy he may be. It is proposed, therefore, to assist the traveller by issuing a letter of credit to him, upon the faith of which a hotel-keeper will cash a check to a limited amount.

R. H. RUSSELL has in preparation a volume to be entitled "The Work of Charles Keene," with an introduction and comments on the drawings illustrating the artist's methods by Joseph Pennell, to which is added a bibliography of the books Keene illustrated and a catalogue of his etchings by W. H. Chesson. This is the first attempt at a complete presentation of the art-work of Charles Keene. Mr. Pennell has been fortunate in securing the assistance of Bradbury & Agnew, the owners of the engravings for Punch, Once a Week, and other publications, and they have lent the original wood blocks, which have never yet been printed from. He has also been aided greatly by the artist's brother, Henry Keene, who has placed, as executor, all the remaining unpublished works of Keene at Mr. Pennell's disposal. The collections owned by the British and South Kensington Museums and many private collections have also been drawn upon. It is certain that Charles Keene's work in Punch and Once a Week, from the preliminary sketch to the finished wood-engraving, will be presented as it never has been before. Not only this, but examples of his almost unknown etchings, color prints, charcoal drawings, wash studies, and above all, his unrivalled designs, in pen and ink, which have never been published and never even seen, will be presented in a fashion that will not only appeal to those who now love Keene, but will vastly widen that circle. The book will be illustrated with many portraits hitherto unpublished. The work will be issued as a super-royal quarto. Besides the regular edition there will be fifteen copies each with an original drawing by Keene and a portfolio containing a complete set of illustrations on India tissue mounted.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

A SUCCESS
LETTERS TO AN UNKNOWN
OF WONDERFUL CHARM

Prosper Mérimée's "Letters to an Unknown," with their exquisite sensibility mingling with a most delicate irony have been done into English by Henri Pène du Bois, and published by Brentano's in a most tasteful form. The secret of her name is as safe within these published letters as in a grave, and no prying eyes can find it through the apertures contained in them. When he hears of her approaching marriage, Mérimée writes this epilogue: "I had a superb stone, well cut, brilliant, scintillating, admirable. I believed it was a diamond which I should not exchange for that of the Grand Mogul. Not at all. It is a false stone. A chemist friend of mine has just made the analysis of it. Imagine my disappointment."

A Handbook for the Bookseller, Librarian, and Collector of Books.

American Book Clubs their beginnings and history, and a bibliography of their publications, by A. GROWOLL, Managing Editor of The Publishers' Weekly. 14+423 p. 12mo. Half calf, cloth sides, printed on Brown's handmade paper, limited to 300 copies, $7.50; Special edition, on Japan paper, limited to 30 copies, $15.

In his introduction the author traces the publishing activity of the early American literary societies from the Junto down to the Delphians (1726-1825). Gives descriptions of thirty-eight clubs, beginning with the first known—The Seventy-Six Society (1854), and ending with the latest one—The Dibdin Club (1897). Appended to the description of each club is a bibliography of the publications of the club with accurately transcribed titles. All the information given has been revised and verified by the surviving members of extinct clubs or by the officers and chief members of existing clubs. Specially valuable are the facts relating to the character of the publications, which facts cover much of the political and social as well as the literary history of America. The complete bibliographies make the work valuable for collectors and for libraries. Full index.

Will Publish During January:

A History of the United States for Schools.

By WILBUR F. GORDY, Principal of the North School, Hartford, Conn.
With about 250 illustrations and maps. 8vo, $1.00 net.

Professor Gordy is widely known in educational circles as a successful teacher, particularly of history, and as the co-author of "A Pathfinder in American History." He has here written a history of our country, for use in schools, which is eminently in advance of its predecessors in clearness of arrangement, in presenting the essentials in a way that will most surely appeal to the child, and in omitting or lessening in importance the mass of matter irrelevant to the real record of our nation's growth. The work is abundantly illustrated and contains most suggestive hints to teachers and pupils alike.

Horace Mann and Public Education in the United States.

The Great Educators Series. By Prof. B. A. HINSDALE, of the University of Michigan. $1.00 net.

A careful and striking biography of the founder of our present public school system, which incidentally shows most picturesquely the amazing development of our common schools during the last half century.

PREVIOUS VOLUMES IN THE SERIES:

What Is Good Music?

Suggestions to Persons Desiring to Cultivate a Taste in Musical Art. By W. J. HENDERSON. 12mo, $1.00 net.

CONTENTS:

PART I.—THE QUALITIES OF GOOD MUSIC.—The Essentials of Form: Rhythm, Melody, and Harmony.—Polyphonic Forms.—Monophonic Forms.—Romantic Form.—Fundamental Principles.—Vocal Forms: Church Counterpoint.—Simple Song Forms.—Operatic Forms.—The Content of Music: The Sensuous.—The Intellectual.—The Emotional.—Aesthetics of Music.

PART II.—THE PERFORMANCE OF MUSIC.—Instrumental Performances: The Orchestra.—Chamber Music.—The Piano.—The Violin.—Vocal Performance: The Work of a Chorus.—Solo Singing.

The author says in his preface: "Music is a thing of law and order. There is no ineffable mystery about it which may not be understood by the average man. Let us then address ourselves to the inquiry, What is good music? It is not a question to which a complete and satisfying answer can be given, but something can be said which will, perchance, be of aid to him who has been in search of some guide for his judgment."
